Woods Trial Set For Monday Here

The trial of Tom Woods, charged with the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Lillie Valentine in late December, will be held before Circuit Court Judge Courtney C. Wells, Monday morning.

The docketing of the Woods case was one of two new developments this week in the December slaying of the Combs restaurant operator.

Kilburn Arrested Near Home

Napier, Mrs. Valentine's son-in-law, was seriously injured in the same shooting.

Kilburn was arrested near his home in Combs this week by State Detective J. E. Combs. Colwell was already in jail for breaking and entering when charges in the Valentine slaying were brought against him.

Mrs. Valentine and Napier were bushwhacked when someone fired through the window of her restaurant at Combs.

Woods, 54, Combs, was arrested at his home by Sheriff Paul Amis and the State Police after the Perry County Grand Jury returned an indictment against him on Feb. 24. He has denied killing Mrs. Valentine or having a role in the shooting.

Mrs. Caudill Cleared

In court this week, Mrs. Siller Caudill was cleared of murder charges brought against her in the Oct. 4 shooting of her husband, Stanton Caudill.

The jury included Robert Causey, Eli Combs, Sidney Jett, Grace Van Camp, Ernie Armstrong, Mrs. M. X. Yonts, Allie Campbell, Spicy McIntosh, Pres Taulbee, Will Williston, Martha Beuva, and Arthur Shepherd.

Other Cases

In other cases the court approved a judgement of $210 for George Tye Baker against Bill Smith; annulled a judgement of divorce for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fugate; dismissed proceedings against Sam Johnson in the case of May Halcombs vs. Sam Johnson and Arch Halcombs, and ordered proceedings to continue against Arch Halcombs, dismissed the case of the Virginia Collins Coal Co., Inc. vs. Froany Johnson, and found for the plaintiff in the case of Jason Combs vs. Co-De Coal Co., et al., for damage claim done to property.

Methodist To Hold Men's Night

The Methodist Men's Club will sponsor the Evening Worship Service at The Bowman Memorial Methodist Church, on Sunday, March 16th, at 7:00 o'clock.

Mr. L. T. Tayloe will be in charge of the Service and a Men's Choir will lead the Song Service.

The Pastor will preach on the subject, "Laymen are Essential to the Building of God's Kingdom!"

You are invited to bring your friends and share in the Worship Services at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church and a Special Invitation is extended for The Men's Night Service of March 16th.

Sewage Plant Estimate Revised

Federal approval of the city's revised estimate for a sewage treatment plant here was made yesterday in telegrams received here from Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Sen. Thurston Morton, and Congressman Carl Perkins.

Total cost of the project under the new estimate will be $687,500 with the federal government's share to be $206,250, project, according to city manager Hobert Wooten, will be paid through revenue bonds.

Under terms of the contract, Hazard must make use of the funds this year or they will revert to the Federal government.

69 Children Got Care From Seals

Easter Seals helped provide medical care, clinic examinations or treatment for 69 children in Perry County last year, according to J. C. Eversole Jr., Hazard, local Easter Seal chairman.

These services were provided through the cooperative program of the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission and the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Society.

"Easter Seal funds," Mr. Eversole said, "help pay expenses of the staff at all Crippled Children Commission clinics held for youngsters in this area."

During 1957 15 crippled children from Perry County were patients at Cardinal Hill Convalescent Hospital, an Easter Seal facility in Lexington.

In addition to hospital and clinic care, the Kentucky Society also furnishes transportation to and from clinics and hospitals, purchases wheel chairs, braces and other special equipment and medicines.

The Society's statewide service also includes a hearing program and recreation and camping activities for the physically handicapped.

Funds to finance its many-pronged program are raised during its annual Easter Seal appeal, which opened March 10 and will continue through April 6.

Dr. M. M. White, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, has announced that all students achieving an average of 3.6 or higher during the past semester were included on the list.

Miss Hall, a daughter of James H. Hall, is a student in the Good Samaritan Hospital School of Nursing.

Homecoming Queen

Crowned queen of the Buckhorn High School Homecoming recently was Miss Polly Marie Eversole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sim Eversole, Buckhorn. Miss Eversole, standing, has been a cheerleader for four years. She is shown with four other yell-mates, from left Sybil McCoy, Patricia Lou Bowling, Louise Sandlin and Lucy Allen. Miss Eversole was crowned by Superintendent Gilbert Bowling, and received a corsage of red cross from the basketball team.

Smith Attending Highway Meeting

County Judge J. A. Smith is attending the 10th annual Kentucky Highway Conference in Lexington, yesterday and today.

Speakers for yesterday's session included Highway Commissioner James W. Martin and Governor Chandler.

Kentucky's three-year highway program will be discussed Thursday with speakers including D. H. Bray, State highway engineer; W. O. Snyder, secretary of the Kentucky Association of Highway Contractors and Harold L. Plummer, chairman of the Wisconsin Highway Commission.

Wednesday's session also included separate sessions on county rural roads, and rights of way, structural division, research and maintenance, and urban highways and streets.

Taxes Still Due

Taxpayers were reminded this week that those delinquent should pay their taxes at Office of Perry County Sheriff Paul Amis as soon as possible.

"Shortly" Stanford announced that taxes will be delinquent taxpayers will be advertised in the near future.

Fields Announces Maces Creek Work

Sen. M. B. "Tug" Fields announced this week that the left fork of Maces Creek will be paved from near the Logwood School up the creek for a distance of about 3.62 miles.

Construction calls for "grade, drain and traffic bound surface."

Man Killed In Hyden Collision

A 28-year old Leslie County resident died of injuries suffered Monday night when the car he was a passenger in crashed into the rear of a stalled trailer truck.

The victim was Parley Sizemore, Bear Branch. Injured was Lloyd Sizemore, 37, driver of the car, admitted to the Hyden Hospital. Sizemore suffered critical injuries, and was reported in serious condition earlier this week.

The death brought to five the number of fatalities in the five-county region served by the local State Police Barracks. At the same time last year, 14 persons had died in traffic accidents.

The accidents occurred on 8 miles west of Hyden on Kentucky 80 shortly after the truck had run out of gas and come to a stop in the right lane of traffic.

State Police reported the driver of the truck, owned by the Lewis Trucking Co., Pearl Wilson, 41, Hyden, had emergency reflectors on the road and had stationed an unidentified person to direct approaching traffic.

Trooper Lonnie Leach said Sizemore's car came around a curve, at first braked when he saw the truck, and then accelerated apparently in an effort to swerve around the trailer. He crashed into the rear, demolishing the car.

Sizemore was cited by State Police for speeding and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

4 More Escape County Jail In Third Break Of Year

The Perry County jailhouse, object of one grand jury report after another, has been broken out of again—this time by four prisoners, including one who was jailed only an hour before Tuesday's escape after being returned here from a previous jailbreak.

Escaping were Eugene Spencer, charged with manslaughter and robbery, Aaron Turner, charged with breaking and entering, child desertion and carrying a concealed weapon, Mack Wheeler, breaking and entering, and Wilgas Anderson, charged with robbing a Yerkes schoolteacher.

Anderson was recaptured in Hamilton, Ohio last week after breaking out of jail here, Jan. 7. He was re-confined to the jail, Tuesday by County Sheriff Paul Amis, at 3 p.m.

County Jailor Charlie Maggard said yesterday the prisoners broke out at approximately some time between 4:30 and 8 p.m. Maggard said he was at the courthouse when the jailbreak occurred.

According to the jailor, the four broke a rail off a bunk and used it as a tool to make their way out. Maggard said they "prized" off a cage door, punched a hole in the wall, and then tied blankets to a steam pipe and lowered themselves to freedom.

Maggard said yesterday it was the third jailbreak since he has taken office. Anderson and four others got out the day after he was sworn in, two more made their way to freedom the following month.

The jail has been the target of the Perry County Grand Jury for the past year. Grand Jury reports have noted that the building is in too poor a state of repair to be of any value to the county as a jailhouse.

Robcats, Bulldogs Advance In 14th

The battle of the "B's"—Bobcats and Bulldogs—and on the outcome of it probably hinging a berth in next week State Tournament—will be played here tomorrow night when Hazard engages Breathitt County in the semi-finals of the 14th Regional Tournament.

Both teams won handily last night, Breathitt storming Lee County, 81-58, and Hazard blitzing Dilce Combs, 96-81, despite a 31 points showing by the Panther's Farmer "Bo" Begley.

Tonight, Whitesburg clashes way in the third frame with Fleming-Neon in a rehash Bob Baker, Don Smith, Ken of the 53rd district finals, at 7 Cobb and Bennett Jent pump-p.m., and Cordia meshes with ing the nets.

Owsley County in the night Moments later, Dilce narrow-ed the gap to nine points on second half of Friday night's field goals by Begley, Ken Combs and Bruce Stewart—but J Baker Smith semi-final rounds. it was a dying effort. The Bull-dogs retaliated with a field goal by Jent and free throws by B. Baker Cobb and Smith to hold a 78-64 lead going into the final frame: Smith captured scoring honors for Hazard with 29 points.

Last night's engagement between the Bulldogs and Dilce Combs was almost a carbon copy of the finals in the 54th District, Saturday, when Hazard rolled over the county five, 80-61.

Again, it was the fouls of the Panthers and the charity line accuracy of Hazard's that made the difference as the two teams smashed existing records for the past season. Hazard's 96 points was the high for the year, and the combined total for the two teams was their best for single any game.

Dilce connected for 31 field goals, edging the Bulldogs in this department by two. In the district finals, the county quintet go 23 from the floor while Hazard hit for 24.

Dilce possibly set a new high for fouls in one game at Memorial Gym, committing 36 infractions last night to send give the Bulldogs 56 trips to the charity line. Hazard connected for 38 free throws—67 percent.

Although the game had been billed as one likely to be close, Hazard roared to a 9-4 lead midway in the first quarter and held a 33-15 advantage on a field goal by Leon Hollon as the second frame opened.

Begley Gets 14 In Second With Bo Begley hitting for 14 points in the second quarter, Dilce pulled to within 3 points, 52-44, by halftime. Begley's 31 points, 19 in the first half, took high for the game for both teams.

Hazard took a 71-56 lead mid-

Drew Pearson To Speak At Rotary District Meeting

Drew Pearson, noted Washington columnist and radio personality, will be the principal speaker at the District Conference of Rotary Clubs to be held in Lexington, March 16-17, according to an announcement made by Stanley Stone, President of the local Rotary Club.

Local Rotarians and their wives are planning to attend the dinner at which Pearson will speak at the Phoenix Hotel, March 17, at 6:30 P.M.

Robert Manchester, of Dayton, Ohio, personal representative of the President of Rotary International, will speak at the noon meeting Monday to be held at the Lafayette Hotel in Lexington.

At the conference, Rotary Club members from one of the Eastern and Central Kentucky Rotary Clubs which make up the District will be selected as District Governor Nominee. He will take office as the official representative from this District at Rotary International. The new Governor will be formally elected along with 248 other District Governors from all parts of the world at Rotary International's 1958 Convention in Dallas, Texas, in June.

The present District Governor for the East-Central Kentucky area is Roman Browninski of Lexington, Division Director of Safety and Employee Information of the Kentucky Utilities Company.

A Rotarian since 1930, he is a former member of the Rotary Clubs of Carrollton, Danville and Maysville, Kentucky.

Mountain Association To Meet

An all-day meeting of the Kentucky Association of the Council of Southern Mountains will be held at Berea College, Saturday, March 15.

Scheduled for the keynote address will be Mr. James L. Patton, Director of the State Department of Vocational Education, Frankfort, Ky. Other speakers will include: Dr. D. M. Aldridge, President of Clear Creek Baptist School and Mr. John Nickels, teacher and Archery expert from the Clear Creek School. Dr. Gabriel Banks, Professor at Morehead College, and Mr. Harrison Holliday, Rowan County Forestry Department.

Presiding at the sessions will be Dr. Henry C. Haggan, Morehead State College, who is president of the Kentucky Association, and Pete Carroll, Caney Junior College, president of the Kentucky Association's Youth Group.

At the opening meeting at 10:00 a.m. (C.D.T.) President F. S. Hutchins, Berea College, will welcome the assembly. The College's Foundation School Chorus directed by Miss Willette Barbee, will sing. The devotionals will be in charge of Mr. Henry Stovall and a group of students from Hazel Green Academy. A tour of the Berea campus is scheduled at 9:00 a.m. for those interested.

The meetings will be held at Draper Building and Gray Auditorium and are open to anyone interested in the problems of the Southern Appalachian Mountains.

Boy Burned About The Face

Mrs. Jeanette Banks who underwent surgery at Lexington last week is home and somewhat improved.

Mrs. Sarah B. Collins, matron at the little girls' home was taken to Lexington Monday by Mr. McClure so she could be operated on. She is recuperating nicely from the operation.

Donald Sexton, one of the little agency boys, was seriously burned about the face Monday when some gasoline exploded.

Mr. Elliott Turner, one of our janitors, worked so hard through the extreme cold spell we had, trying to keep the school furnace going, that he undermined his health and is seriously ill at this time. It will be recalled that his wife, Lucy, was the one who fell and broke her arm a few weeks ago. So this couple is really having it hard, both ill.

The grade school basketball tournament was held in the Buckhorn gym this past week end. Vicco won with Clarence Howard's Chavies team runners up.

This Mother and Daughter Housekeeping Team Agree... All-Electric Living Means Less Work, More Free Time, Comfort and Convenience

Mrs. Hampton Walker Pendleton and her daughter Daisy, secretary-treasurer of a coal company, live in a new five-room ranch home. Electricity is on the job here... from heating system to the kitchen clock.

"We installed electric heat in our home because it is safer," Miss Pendleton says, "and it eliminates the hardships imposed upon you by other types of heating plants. There's no furnace to tend, no fuel to buy... it's just wonderful!"

Mrs. Pendleton says, "Electric heat is so clean. Our drapes are as clean as they were when we moved in two years ago, and we used to have to wash at least one set of curtains every week. We are extremely fond of our electrical appliances, and I know of nothing else that can assure us of so much comfort and convenience."

Washing and drying clothes electrically is easier and faster.

Clothes come out of an electric dryer soft and fluffy, easier to iron.

With the time they have because of electric conveniences, Mrs. Pendleton and her daughter are able to pursue their favorite hobbies which are painting and raising African Violets.

A Word Of Thanks To A B.P.W.C.

Sometimes we tend to forget the little things that are done for our community by active clubs and organizations—and too often overlook their efforts.

But certainly the achievements of the Hazard Business and Professional Women's Club has done much to impress communities and civic leaders elsewhere with the advantages of Hazard and the progress being made here.

These women are constantly at work, giving of their own time, to make Hazard a better place to live, and a community of which all of us can be proud. The drive, campaign, etc., doesn't come up but that they are ready workers to make a success out of it. With an energy and determination few of us can match, they undertake whatever comes their way for the good of Hazard. They write for this newspaper to raise funds for shoes, given freely of course to needy children. They pound the pavements and solicit door-to-door for an endless number of worthy causes, and they do this graciously without the first word of complaint. Possibly they respond too eagerly because there is rarely ever a drive but that the Business and Professional Women are not asked to do a man's size job.

Only recently the club drew recognition for Hazard on a scrapbook submitted in the 1957 Better Eastern Kentucky Community Improvement Contest, conducted by the Chamber of Commerce.

This scrapbook reflected the progress made here last year, and as a result Hazard was second only to Paintsville for towns of 2001 to 10,000 population.

But for the Business and Professional Women's Club, this honor would have never come to our community. And there may be more awards forthcoming on the scrapbook. It is entered now in State-wide competition, and may possibly bring further distinction to our city.

So to the Business and Professional Women's Club, the sincere thanks we believe, of the entire community for all you have done in the behalf of Hazard. If at times we tend to overlook your work, be assured it is not because we do not

L. O. A. Club Meets With Mrs. Noble

Mrs. C. A. Noble, Sr., entertained with a party at her home on Broadway Street on Tuesday evening, March 11. The St. Patrick's motif was carried out in both decorations and refreshments. A St. Patrick's jig saw puzzle contest was won by Mrs. Roy Eversole.

Members present were Mrs. Roy Eversole, Mrs. Asa Ferguson, Mrs. Albert Strong, Mrs. Harvey Lusk, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Melvin Clutts, Mrs. Clifford Clutts, Mrs. Alex Strong, Mrs. Clay Campbell, Mrs. Ralph Peters and Mrs. Ragon Helton.

Among the guests attending the Kiwanis Speech Contest which was held Tuesday evening were Mrs. Stephen Combs, of Whitesburg, Morris Schumaker, and E. C. Caddis of Ashland, Mr. W. E. Winkenhof of Bowling Green.

Miss Campbell Wins Poster Contest

Winners in the "Litter Bug" Poster Contest sponsored by the Junior Garden Club of Perry County were announced this week.

They are: Pat Campbell, first place, poster on display at Patton-Moore Dry Goods; Mary Manning, second, poster at Sherwin Williams Paint Store, and Henrietta Gibson, third, poster at Interstate Finance.

Honor Student

Dr. Travis D. Rawlings, Academic Dean has just released the 1958 Winter Quarter Honor Roll for Midway Junior College and Pinkerton High School. The following Hazard girl is on the list—Annette Short.

Why Be Baptized

By A. C. Grider

For some time I have been writing concerning the teaching on the subject of baptism. For some reason people don't seem to be satisfied with the teaching of the Bible on that subject. Whatever the Bible says on FAITH they will accept exactly as it reads. Whatever the Bible says on REPENTANCE they will accept exactly as it reads. But what it says about BAPTISM they REJECT! I am listing the teaching of the Bible on Baptism. Will you accept them?

1. JESUS SAID BAPTIZE the taught. Matt. 28:19. Isn't THAT a good reason?
2. Believe and be baptized to BE SAVED. Mark 16:16. What better reason could you have?
3. For the remission of sins. Acts 2:38. How can you get around that?
4. Baptized TO WASH AWAY SINS. Acts 22:16. Now what do you say about it?
5. People JUSTIFY GOD when they are baptized. Luke 7:29. Don't you want to justify God?
6. REJECT COUNSEL OF GOD if he refuses baptism. Luke 7:30. Will you be willing to do that?
7. Baptized to be BORN OF WATER. John 3:35. Can you be born some other way?
8. Baptized to PUT ON CHRIST. Gal. 3:27. Don't you want to put on Christ?
9. Baptized to GET INTO CHRIST. Rom. 6:3. Had you rather stay out of Christ?
10. Baptism is a PART OF REGENERATION. Titus 3:5. Do you want to be regenerated?
11. Baptized into the BODY OF CHRIST. 1 Cor. 12:13. Can you be saved out of his body?
12. GOD OPERATES on us in baptism. Col. 2:12. Don't you like the Doctor's methods?
13. Baptism is A COMMAND. Acts 10:48. Can you be saved in disobedience?
14. Baptized so as to WALK IN NEWNESS OF LIFE. Rom. 6:4. Do you want to walk a new life?
15. Baptism is a part of BELIEVING ON CHRIST. Acts 10:1-5. Can you be saved without believing?

Here are FIFTEEN reasons why one should be baptized. They are all GOOD reasons. If there were only ONE good reason, we should not fight it. What are you going to do about it? Won't you read your new testament and see that I have told you the truth? Friends, the salvation of your souls is at stake.

The only reason a man can cite for NOT being baptized is that it conflicts with his denominational doctrine. What harm can come from obeying God in his word? May God help you to read your Bible and obey it in all its precepts.

Attend services Sunday at the Lothair Church of Christ. You will find the people of God speaking where the Bible speaks and being silent where the Bible is silent.

THE PROBLEM OF YOUTH—A Christian Approach

Ernest Stricklin

The problem of youth in our community has caused many of us deep concern. The problem has been described in detail. All of us are aware that something "ought" to be done. The question I would ask is "What?" Before we approach our problem, let us agree that our point of view will be Christian. This means that we will use every available source to help us in our solution. We can begin to get the proper perspective if we take seriously these words of Ephesians 6:4 (R.S.V.) "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." The first part of this verse suggests something that Fathers not do (or do).

"Do not provoke your children to anger." In other words, put the proper example before them. Let us suggest these examples. Understand youth, their needs, the situation in which they live, and the personality factors that stamp them as adolescents. Have an interest in their interests and a concern for their concerns. Be absolutely honest and fundamentally sincere in all your dealings with youth. Have immeasurable patience with youth and take enough time in your life for them that they may feel a genuine sense of personal significance to you. Have genuine tolerance for youth and always give them the benefit of any doubt. Have a sense of humor which permits you to laugh heartily and to unbend your stuffy, authoritarian, disinterested self. Be undiscouragedly optimistic and seek to channel their eagerness and enthusiasm in ways that make for good. Have perspective: the ability to see what these irresponsible, boisterous, and trying adolescents can become. Have implicit confidence in youth to believe they can develop the divine characteristics God has placed within their lives. Seek always to live so close to Christ that your ability to inspire youth toward Christian decision and Christian faith is always a channel for the will and power of God.

Within each of these young people, there are deep needs for exploration, adventure, to be creative, to share his experiences, for personal recognition (as a person), for status (a sense of belonging), to learn to live with authority, a sense of achievement, a personal sense of direction, and for personal commitment. Real and true Christian instruction begins and ends as the adult is used by God to help the youth help himself.

We can learn to help himself by helping him (1) to accept himself for what he is and for what he may become; (2) to learn to live with his parents; (3) to get along with members of his own age and sex; (4) to develop happy relations with the opposite sex, as a preface to normal, happy friendships and, later, marriage and homemaking; (5) to learn to get along with and experience a feeling of kinship with all people; (6) to become increasingly aware of the word of work, and to prepare for an appropriate vocation; (7) to develop an awareness of contemporary social issues and a deep sense of personal responsibility as a significant member of democratic society and of the world community; (8) to lay the foundation for a philosophy of life including the identify and choice of those values by which his future life will be governed; and (9) to cultivate interests and skills which will provide channels for recreational and avocational pursuits through the years to come. Something is being done about our problem. Much more is needed by you. Only the Christian approach will succeed. But very important is this: What will YOU do about it?

Robert "Bob" Day Well Known Mason Dies In Letcher Co'ty

Robert "Bob" Day, 80, one of Letcher county's oldest citizens, and one of the best known masonic leaders in South Eastern, died at his home on Cowan road Saturday morning after a brief illness. According to his family he had suffered an attack of flu but was thought recovering when a heart seizure thus his death came as a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Day is survived by his wife, Dora Brashers Day, three children, Roy A., of Lexington; Ralph of Whitesburg; and Mrs. Pearl Hogg, of Baltimore, Md. One brother, Magistrate Jess Day, of Whitesburg; one sister, Mrs. John Stewart, of Whitesburg, and several grand children.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church of Whitesburg, with Rev. Clell Rodgers, and Ray Collins officiating, with the Craft Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Day, who was lovingly known to his hundreds of friends as Uncle "Bob" was a charter member of the Whitesburg Masonic Lodge, having been a regular attendant for more than 55 years.

Burial was in the family plot at Whiteo with a masonic burial.

WOMEN HOLD

Regular Meeting

Mrs. Brown Campbell has been ill at her home the past week.

A. J. Stout, Jr. is still having trouble with a throat infection.

Bedford-Brewer is also ill at his home.

Virgil Helton went to the Miners Memorial hospital March 7 for a general check up.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wueen of London, were in Glomawr Tuesday calling on old friends.

They said this place would always be home to them.

Mrs. Wooton, one of our teachers, became suddenly ill while teaching last week and was rushed to the hospital. She is now at her home and will probably be back on the job Monday. Mrs. Lillie Stanford is the substitute.

Our women had their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, March 4th at the Community Church in Lothair. Mrs. Dorothy Alcorn, of Hazard, gave the lesson on "A Learning Church" which was splendidly given. Twenty-three women were present including the speaker. All of the women brought food for the Howard Franks family that lost their home in a fire recently in Lothair.

Oil Discovered In Breathitt

At least ten "rigs" are now drilling and as many as twelve more are moving to locations in a new oil and gas field being developed in Breathitt county. Most activity is centered in the Shoulderblade area.

The development started after a driller for United Fuel and two partners from Winchester drilled a 110-barrel oil well on a 40 acre lease on Shoulderblade, about seven miles northwest of Jackson.

Since then three other big producers have been drilled.

The latest is a 100-barrel-a-day producer brought in last week by Petroleum Exploration Company on the Gabbard lease, about a mile from the original well. "Pay" is from a 12-ft. strata of corniferous formation.

Meanwhile, United Fuel has drilled in two good wells between the original well and Pet Ex's new well. One is good for 60-barrels a day and the other ports. All are on the waters of Shoulderblade, a tributary of the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River.

The Preston Oil Company from Texas, has also entered the area and has brought in a good producer about three miles away and only about 3 1/2 miles from Jackson.

The new field is described as running northeast and southwest across Breathitt from Evanston and Magoffin county to the Lee-Owsley field.

United Fuel, which has long owned most of the leases in this area, has according to reports, contracted with a Texas company to test a large part of its acreage with seismograph to determine locations of the most favorable drilling sites.

A large portion of the crude oil is being transported by Ashland Oil tank trucks to the refinery at Catlettsburg.

Building
Sufficient Electrical Wiring
Is Important!

If you are building a home, or even remodeling, be sure to wire ahead for convenient, comfortable electric living. Few homeowners realize that the average residential use of electricity has more than doubled from 1,324 kilowatt hours in 1947 to 2,833 in 1957. If your home was built before 1947, chances are it is one out of five homes with inadequate wiring. Make sure your home has sufficient electrical wiring for years-ahead comfort, convenience and safety.

UPPER PIGEON ROOST

Thanks To Mr. Salyers

Hello everyone:
First of all we want to thank Mr. Johnnie M. Salyers for wading in the snow and mud through out the two years. We understand we won't have him next year as much as we would like to. He has changed our school house from a ghost like place into a nice school house and we can't forget him.
Mrs. Ethel Bush is home from the hospital and she is feeling better.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fugate are the proud parents of a baby girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Combs announce the birth of their baby girl.

We want to thank the men of Pigeon Roost for working our road over. Otherwise transportation would be impossible, especially thanks to Uncle Simon Brewer and his handy man.

Pvt. Dowey Lee Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brewer, of Bulan, left March 8 for overseas duty.

Pvt. D. C. Combs is discharged and is now on his way home. Bond Lee Stacy and Curtis Brewer visited Camp Nathaniel over the weekend.

CORNETT HILL

Progress Made On School Basement

Our new basement is progressing very rapidly. We plan to have a "Working" Saturday, the 8th of March. Anyone who would like to help will be welcome and appreciated.

One of our teachers, Mrs. Clyda Fuson has been ill all week, we hope she will be back with us next week. Mrs. Robert Gregory is substituting for her.

Our monthly 4-H Club meeting was held Thursday. We had a very educational program, Kentucky's Trees.

We would like to express our sympathy to the people of Floyd County. We are happy to assist any way we can. We have raised $10.75 for the burial fund.

21 Knott Children Got Aid From Easter Seals

Easter Seals helped provide medical care, clinic examinations or treatment for 21 children in Knott County last year, according to Billy M. Smith, Hindman, local Easter Seal chairman.

These services were provided through the cooperative program of the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission and the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Society.

"Easter Seal funds," Mr. Smith said, "help pay expenses of the staff at all Crippled Children Commission clinics held for youngsters in this area."

During 1957 eight crippled children from Knott County were patients at Cardinal Hill Convalescent Hospital, an Easter Seal facility in Lexington.

In addition to hospital and clinic care, the Kentucky Society also furnishes transportation to and from clinics and hospitals, purchases wheel chairs, braces and other special equipment and medicines.

The Society's statewide service also includes a hearing program and recreation and camping activities for the physically handicapped.

Bad Roads Cause Absentees At School

Neal Watts, of Napfor Hollow, is in a critical condition at his home following a serious operation at a Lexington hospital. Neighbors and friends have been assisting in caring for him.

Linda Carol McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIntosh, of Dunraven, has been spending a week with her family following minor surgery at Homeplace Hospital. Linda has returned to Riverside High School to resume her studies. Linda and her mother visited the Napfor School Friday afternoon where her father is the teacher.

Mrs. W. S. Campbell has gone to Cincinnati, Ohio to visit her daughter, Mattie Bailey and family.

Bad models made by the 4-H Club boys and girls of the school are now finished.

The boys of the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades are planning to attend the Electrical Demonstration Training School at the Kentucky Power Company, Friday. Miss Lowery, their local leader will accompany the group.

A number of men and boys of the local area attending Buckhorn High School have worked quite hard this past week to make it possible to travel over the Napfor-Krypton road. Ruts were so deep that even travel by jeep seemed almost impossible. All these folks needed to be commended for the wonderful service rendered.

Bad weather and bad road conditions have caused many of our children to be absent frequently from their classes at Buckhorn High School. The students and parents are most unhappy about the very limited facilities available for the children of the area to attend high school. A great loss of time from school the elimination of hazardous travel and the long hours required to reach Buckhorn could be cared for by the establishment of a school near by. Students and parents are anxious to have one established at Krypton Bible Center. We sincerely hope that the Co. Superintendent of Schools and Co. School Board members will give this serious consideration.

HAZARD'S FINEST

Boys, you that have had the watery eyes for past few weeks. I am sure that they have become some what clear by this time, because you have already read about 18, 15, 16, 12, 10, 8 pounders being taken from the Walleye run on Lake Cumberland.

I will say that you will have to endure some hardship on this type fishing. They just don't run up and grab a hook every time it has been thrown in. Boys, you have to out figure them. I am hoping for a day or so before too long on them. Then I will be able to give you first hand information in regard to this Walleye run.

In the past I have found it a problem to get a toe hold anywhere along the streams when the run gets well under way. With no adverse weather conditions, I would say this will be the greatest. If you will notice all the people up and down our streams with a fire built up, you can bet your bottom dollar that the suckers are also on the move.

Folks, I have always found a sucker or red horse a very good eating fish at this time of year. Boys, if you catch more than you want, please let me know. I will come after them.

My old friend Truman Combs stated that they caught so many few days ago, that they gave them away. Too bad, I wasn't there Truman during this process of giving.

SONG BIRDS

Ladies and Gentlemen with Spring in the air. I am sure that you have noticed the song birds about the place. Such as robins, wrens and other types of song birds that have been missing for so many cold winter months. Now that they have come back to raise their young. I would urge you to help them in every way possible.

By advising your sons not to shoot at them with their BB guns, also sling shots, or even throwing rocks at them. Why not protect your friends of mother nature. Tell your son what he should shoot at, also what he is allowed to shoot at, folks this is a law. Why not help your son to do the things that he should accord to laws.

Why don't you as a father or mother become better acquainted with these laws. Yes by joining your Perry Fish and Game Club. You will better be informed, so that you can talk to your children. Membership is only one dollar per year. Why not mail in yours along with that good wife of yours today.

A Choice In TV Should Be Ours

While we must concede we are well entertained by much of current commercial television, and are pleased that it comes in "free," we are amazed that so much furor should be aroused with so little understanding over the issue of whether or not a pay television system could be allowed in addition.

People seem to believe that pay TV would eliminate commercial television and that hereafter they would have to pay for what they now see free.

All that is proposed is that pay TV be permitted so people may have a choice between sponsored programs they would continue to get free, and, on other channels, special programs they could pay extra for if they wished. No one would be obligated to subscribe to pay TV if they did not want it.

The present plan we are told is to allow a pay-TV channel only where there are at least four commercial channels already operating, and initially to operate on a three-year trial basis in 20 cities across the country.

The storm of arguments convinces us that most people would continue to see free TV since they insist they will not submit to paying for special programs (although many of them will pay to see movies, go to concerts and plays).

At this point it seems unlikely that TV could crowd out free programs. By demonstration, in Bartlesville, Okla. a kind of pay TV was installed to show movies to subscribers. This is not subject to FCC regulations because it is a direct channel hook-up rather than by sending out programs over the airways. Last week the firm operating "telemovies" had to cut their fee from $9.45 to $4.95 and to cut viewing time from all afternoon and night to 7-11 nightly due to lack of response.

Pay TV we are told would offer to any willing to pay for it, plays, special sports events, operas, first run movies, and other programs which commercial television now finds unprofitable to handle or can't afford in any quantity.

It would seem that the main reason commercial television is against pay TV is that it could attract some of the audience away from what sponsors now pay for. This seems to be a greater threat this year because of the increasingly dull crop of unimaginative and monotonously repetitive fare being offered in the way of one western after another topped by numerous musicals.

Another objection is that pay-TV could win away much talent through the vast resources of paying customers, despite the fact that paying customers were not able to keep actors from moving over to commercial television from non-sponsored movies.

Threat of an entertainment monopoly is also cited, although necessary restrictions, to prevent such a thing happening can never be bell down Grapevine way. He says in the early days of logging in our area, that one gentleman from this neck of the woods cut his first logs, made his first raft, proudly sailed it into Beattyville. Which was the nearest point for a market at that time. After selling his logs, which maybe brought him $100, he was afraid to guess what that raft would have brought today.

Of course he felt very rich with that much money in his pockets, so he decided to see the city of Beattyville, not knowing his way around very much, he hired himself a small boy about twelve years old to show him the sights. At that time of course Beattyville was some what of an extra ordinary place, compared from the section this old gentleman came from.

This kid, he hired being educated in the ways of city life. He immediately guided his new found friend into a grocery or combination store of all types of merchandise. First thing caught the eye of our friend was a stalk of bananas. He inquired about them, then said give me twenty five cents worth, the kid spoke up and said you don't need that many. You will get ten or twelve, nevertheless the old gentleman bought that many. They strolled over to the city square which was the Court House. The kid showed him how to peel them down. I mean the bananas, he said son, you can have the core, then he proceeded to eat all the peels. Understand that kid watched for years to see another raft drift into Beattyville. Such as this particular one.

EARLY BIRDS

Always have heard of the early bird getting the worm, from some reports I have received from some early fisherman, such as Russell Noplis, Truman Combs, Monroe Noble, and Sonny Noplis that went fishing before the cold spell really broke, they stated that a fish that was cold as they were couldn't bite. I would say you boys are keeping up with your old school spirit even though you are behind you will keep trying.

Speaking of early birds I noticed five robins out on my yard this morning, with this rain I am sure the fishing worms are coming near the top of the ground. This is a good sign that things are warming up, because I believe that such things as the lowly worm would have better sense to come so near the top of the ground to let the robins pull him out of his hole, that was just what was happening. It was a sight to see these birds get hold of a worm, then rear back and pull it to pull. They didn't always win.

mapped out until there is a field test. It seems unlikely that if fifty million people were willing commercial-free movie at home instead of packing up the kids (or getting a baby sitter), to go to a theater, that the fees could be set very high. On the other hand if only a select few were willing to pay for special programs, there could not be enough money involved to afford expensive programs.

The networks threaten that if pay-TV is accepted, they will have to switch to that plan to survive. It would seem that if the networks really felt pay TV would be so widely acceptable and so profitable, they would be the first to clamor for the change. In England the reverse has happened—they had pay-TV there to begin with. Now commercial TV has been added, and from all accounts it is thriving (and with much less blatant commercials than we endure).

A flat rate subscription such as the British have would be difficult to sell here—but a pay-by-the-program system may go over with the public. Since no test has been made, no one can say with any assurance which method would be adopted.

It sounds like the networks are crying before they are hurt. They are saying, in effect, that the public, once it gets a taste of selecting programs without commercials, will turn its back on commercial TV, however "free."

The pay TV backers say they could present a broader selection of entertainment for viewers who would pay for it.

The major defense commercial television would have against pay TV would be to present a greater variety of better programs.

We are not "for" pay TV or against commercial TV—but we do think the public needs to know the full story, and not just the side the networks are giving. No one will ever know how such a plan would work unless it is given a trial. —Hodding Carter.

Much Remains To Cut Tower Of Red Tape

A new income tax guidebook published by the firm of Prentice - Hall contains an interesting little special section, in addition to detailed instructions on how to accurately fill out your tax return. This section is based on the exhaustive Hoover Commission recommendations on ways and means to eliminate waste and inefficiency in the federal government.

In 25 years, the booklet points out, the national debt has risen from $194 to $1,611 per capita, and taxes have jumped from $52 per average family to $442 a year for every man, woman and child in this country. And here, according to the Hoover Commission experts, are some of the reasons why.

Paperwork. Each year the government creates and handles 25 billion pieces of paper! A Commission recommendation adopted by the Veterans' Administration alone is saving more than $1 million annually. Much more can be saved.

Red Tape. Adopted Commission recommendations concerning government reports, forms, and other such matters are saving $5 million a year for government and $10 million for industry. Estimates say an additional $100 million can be saved.

Medical Services. In 1955, the government spent $4.27 billion for these. One adopted Commission recommendation has already saved $335.5 million and many millions more can be saved.

Transportation. Government-owned transportation competes with private transport. The Commission figures that a saving to the taxpaers of $151.5 million is possible.

Research and Development. Twenty-nine different agencies of the government are engaged in these activities. The Commission says that fewer agencies, better centralized could do the needed jobs for less money.

Inventory. Because of the government's poor inventory system, mountains of supplies, including perishables, pile up. One horrible example was a 719 months' supply of canned hamburger, which has a "keeping life" of 24 months.

Records. Government records take up space equivalent to 7 Pentagon buildings. Adopted recommendations are saving $4 million a year and $46 million more can be saved.

The booklet then observes that one of the biggest reasons for the present state of public spending is found in government competition with private enterprise in all manner of fields—electric power, insurance, lending, warehousing, transportation and so on and so on. For the most part, it points out, these enterprises pay no taxes, pay little or no interest on capital invested, seldom charge depreciation, frequently do not include their directing personnel on the payroll, and in most cases do not include the cost of "fringe benefits" of government personnel.

Former President Herbert Hoover has said that, if we adopt the recommendations "... the rewards in reduced taxes could be very great and the rewards in improved services even greater." And he added this significant statement: "... the key to real action lies in the hands of the citizens."

Proper Lighting Is Inexpensive Advertising

We wonder what would be the reaction of shoppers if all businessmen of this region left their store window lights on till 10 or 11 o'clock at night.

The windows of his store are a businessman's first direct contact with his customers. They are advertising mediums, intended to serve in the promotion of his business. Attractively decorated and properly lighted they can sell merchandise for him, long after he and his employees have left the store.

We say properly lighted, because there is a difference between leaving a 60-watt bulb in the window or rear of the building, and "lighting" the store windows so that customers are attracted to them to see what the store is offering.

And when you consider the few pennies spent for proper lighting, it becomes an inexpensive and effective advertising medium with in the budget of any alert businessman.

Good store lighting is money well invested. It returns itself in merchandise sold. Look at the lights within your store, take a second look at the window lighting. You may be overlooking a salesman who'll work for wages of over pennies a day.

PAPER PULPIT

Non-Sectarian for the Unchurched

Christianity consists of the following doctrines:

I Monotheism—One eternal God who created all things.

II Trinity—One God in three persons, the same in substance, alike in quality, differing in person: Father, Son, and Spirit (Matt. 28:19).

III Incarnation—One of these persons, the Son, added to Himself a human nature becoming the God-man, named Jesus (Heb. 2:16; John 17:5).

VI Atonement—The death of the God-man was sufficient to satisfy the demands of justice for the whole human race—we died to the law through Christ—(Rom. 7:4; 2 Cor. 5:21).

V Resurrection and ascension—The God-man arose from the dead in a new kind of body that can subsist anywhere in the universe.

VI Conversion—It is the duty of all men to repent of their sins and commit themselves to the God-man. Speaking crudely but plainly, we might say that one third of God came down in the form of man (not all of God, but the rest is no different), and did for us what we had to do but could not do. Heaven was not vacated, so to speak, by the incarnation. The Son of God came, and went back to Heaven, thus making for us a bridge from earth to Heaven. This is Christianity. —W. T. Barr

Little League Is In Need Of Your Help

Two recreation programs here are faced with a dilemma that could result in both of them dying the death of apathy.

We refer to the Little League and Babe Ruth Leagues.

Here is the situation they are faced with: Plenty of boys anxious to play ball—too few officials and managers for the teams.

As of this moment and for the past several years, the Little League and Babe Ruth Leagues have been the extent of Perry County's summer recreation program. Just how many boys this program has kept off the streets, has prevented from becoming delinquents, will never be known. You can be sure, however, that but for the two leagues, the problem of summer recreation here would have been greatly magnified.

Both leagues are now floating in a sea of apathy that could cause the few people interested in these programs to throw up their hands and call it quits.

They are not getting support from the parents, or from the public at large. Money is needed to keep these programs going, and so too, are the men who have the time to serve as officials and managers.

Subscriber Offers Criticism of Herald

Dear Editor:

For several weeks I have been receiving the Herald; now, I'm going to sound off. As a native of Perry County, I like to keep informed on the news down there.

I have never seen such a "jumbled up" paper as the Hazard Herald. You have no system at all. For 10 cents a copy, I think you should be able to put out a better paper.

Today I received the Herald issue of March 6. On the front page you have your sports, deaths and the news. On the 5th page you have listed one death and on the back page you have another one. Also, on the 5th page you have listed an Induction list. Seems to me that a report like that should rate the front page, or at least the second page.

Can't your reporters find enough "real" news to cover the front page? I realize that the Herald is just a small county paper, but every day things are happening all over the state and the United States that the people in Perry County and elsewhere should, and would like to know about. Even in Perry County you should be able to find enough front page news twice a week.

May I suggest?

That you have an Obituary Column—not on the front page. That you have a Sports Page—other than the front page. And also, I would like to see an Ary News Column. I think that it would be nice if you had a "Birth Announcement Column."

I really don't want to be rude by sending you a letter like this, but I certainly would like to see a better news paper from Hazard.

Yours truly,
BEULAH J. RUDY

More Variety Asked Of Herald Pages

Dear Editor:

I would like to make some suggestions. I think your newspaper needs to add some interesting columns for your different types of readers. You need a column of interest to the homemaker, something that will interest the housewife. It would be nice to have the community news of each community printed in your paper weekly. Then too, don't forget the farmer? They need a column about gardening and farming facts along their line of interest. You have a good newspaper now but it could be improved by adding some more interesting columns for the different types of interests your readers have. So why not give it a try?

Sincerely yours,
ELVA HALCOMB

Trees Would Make Roadside Attractive

What would the roadside between Hazard and Walkertown look like lined in dogwoods—or some other flowering tree?

Attractive, we think. And the trees or shrubbery would certainly transform an eyesore into one of the most delightful stretches of roads anywhere in the State.

It wasn't too many years ago that this roadside stretch was lined with trees. Why can't it be done now? Finding the labor should be no job—and trees are not that expensive. This strikes us as a truly worthy project for some civic club, or grade and high school. And there's no question but that the entire community would be grateful for their efforts.

Public Warned By I.R. Service Against Phony Tax Collectors

All Kentuckians were today warned against people who falsely claim to be employees of the Internal Revenue Service. Mr. Wm. M. Gray, District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, stated that there have been several recent incidents in which people have been defrauded by phony tax collectors.

These phony tax collectors usually work by claiming that the taxpayer owes the government tax money which they try to collect in cash. They often have a quantity of tax forms and other official looking papers which they use to impress the taxpayer. They demand payment in cash, for it is very hard for any person to cash a check or money order which is made out to the Internal Revenue Service.

It is suggested to all taxpayers that they request anyone claiming to be an Internal Revenue Officer to show them his credentials. There credentials are a small leather-covered folder which shows the picture of the main U.S. Treasury building and the picture and signed name of the officer who is carrying it.

If a taxpayer is approached by anyone who cannot show the proper credentials or by anyone who demands payment in cash for taxes claimed due, he should first try to delay the phony agent by some means. This could be done by letting him look at some unimportant papers or records. While the so-called agent is examining these papers, the taxpayer should get to a telephone and call the nearest Internal Revenue Service office or the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

If the taxpayer is unable to delay the false agent, he should note and remember his description and the description and number of his automobile, if he is using one.

Mr. Gray concluded by stating that if taxpayers would follow these simple rules, none could be defrauded by phony tax collectors.

TRUTH-AD FOR THE UNCHURCHED

By WINN T. BARR

Yes, the dying thief went to Paradise without doing a single solitary thing in the way of Christian duty. Jesus said, "Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise." The thief was converted on a cross, absolutely unable to perform the first duty of a Christian which is baptism, even though Christ had already administered baptism throughout His ministry John 4:1, 2. This was one man who was saved, but had no chance to win a reward, because he had no chance to do any work. "The fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved: yet so as by fire" (1 Cor. 3:13-15). This passage proves that eternal life does not depend on works, that there's a difference between salvation and rewards.

However, if one lives long enough without disability after conversion, there are bound to be good works. But these contribute nothing to his salvation. A real Christian works for Jesus, knowing it contributes nothing to his salvation. He does it for Jesus, not for himself. God wants us to work for Him not for compulsive reasons (fear, desire for safety, or because we have to), but just because we love Him and want to. Love is a better motive than selfishness.

The good NEWS belongs in the NEWSpaper, but also LOOK in the BOOK it comes from, and SEARCH for the CHURCH that obeys that book most fully.

View That Satisfies All The Scriptures

1. Conversion (repentance, faith, and calling on the Lord) brings eternal life, (a righteous standing, nature, and destiny).
2. Eternal life brings good works (of which baptism is only one among many).
3. Works bring rewards at Christ's return (according to their number and degree of love).

Look for a TRUTH-AD every Thursday.
